INFORMATION is wanted as to the whereabouts of Mr. PATRICK KING, who was last heard from was in the employ of the late R. at Port Moody in the capacity of Bridge Carpenter. Some 18 or 20 months ago a rumor reached his friends in New York State that he, with a number of other workmen, were quarantined for small-pox at Port Moody. He was formerly a resident of Brockport, Monroe County, New York. Since that time, 18 or 20 months since, his friends have received no tidings from him. Any person knowing anything of his whereabouts will relieve a widowed mother's anxiety for an absent son by communicating such information to the TIMES office, Victoria, or to R. ENGLISH NEWSPAPERS.

HENRY WATTERSON of the Louisville Courier-Journal writes from London concerning journalism in England thus: When it comes to "news" the London newspaper is nowhere. The Courier-Journal and the Louisville Evening Times publish more foreign news, even more London news, every day than appears in all the British newspapers combined. As to American news, the London papers, for the most part, ignore it. They report the American stock markets with a line or two of mention if there happens to be a conflagration, an earthquake or a strike. This exclusion of the United States as a topic having any concern for Europeans is done on a system, which is shown suspiciously in cases of public disorder or scandal, which are duly chronicled with all possible exaggeration. News items in the London journals, like guests at a London dinner table, takes precedence, according to rank and file. Russia, being an empire; then Germany, another, then France, ex-empire and presumptive candidate for royalty; and then Turkey, Egypt and Spain. By the time the United States is reached there is no room left, and so we are given a stool in the corner and told to mind our manners. It is with us in England as it was with Rabelais, when he went to Rome, and seeing the prince of the church kissing the Pope's toe, wondered, with some anxiety, what part of the Pontifical body a poor monk would be required to salute. Indeed, the press of London, whatever else it may be, is a perfect transcript of London society; and, knowing a lord and loving a lord, it has nothing for the united American but a cold potato and a sneer, done up in an extra dirty napkin.

SPLENDID PREMISES.

The Bank of British North America Montreal, Remodelled.

The Monetary Times says: Not before it was needed, certainly, did the authorities of the Bank of British North America proceed to remodel their head office in Montreal. So prominent a site and so important a bank argued a more roomy and modern building than that which it so long occupied without much alteration. The buildings of the bank in that city have now been changed and improved to such an extent, that the visitor would hardly recognize the old office in the present commodious and handsome premises. The object in remodelling the offices was to obtain increased accommodation, and this end has been as fully attained as if the old building had been pulled down and a new one erected. The rear of the building has been built out, making it proportionate with the front and greatly increasing the interior space. The manager's room, now situated in the front of the building, is a marked improvement upon the previous one and the change will, no doubt, be greatly appreciated both by the public and the occupant. The semi-circular counter of the banking room, with its resplendent plate glass and bronze fittings is marked by good taste, and the effect is considerably heightened by the cherry woodwork, which gives it a rich and substantial appearance. The plate glass windows in the front and rear, besides lending a fine effect to the handsome surroundings, increase the light in the offices, which from the nature of the woodwork and fittings, has a bright and cheerful appearance. A handsome staircase leads to the flat above, occupied by the general manager and his staff. This flat has also been remodelled and improved, and largely increased accommodation has now been attained. The alterations throughout are characterized by good taste combined with a due regard to utility, and the accommodation now offered to the public by the Bank of British North America is exceptionally good. The alterations have been carried out by Hutchinson & Steele. The Roman pavement, which is of very good workmanship adds greatly to the attraction of the office. The effect of the changes made, in lightness and airiness, must be beneficial to the staff, for in the old office on dark days there was none too much of either sunlight or air.

A DOMESTIC SCANDAL.

A Former Portlander Compelled to Support his Minor Daughter.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 26.—A short time ago Xarifa J. Faling brought suit against her husband, Charles D. Faling, to compel him to provide for the maintenance and education of their minor daughter. Complainant charged that defendant had abandoned his family in Portland, Oregon, and had taken up his abode in this city with a woman named Effie Winnie Cawley. Defendant, in his answer, stated that the minor was born out of wedlock. It was claimed that when he married the child's mother she was known as Mrs. L. G. Hand, and that the child was called Lillie Hand. It was also averred that on April 7, 1885, he entered into a written agreement with his wife at Portland, whereby the latter received from him $6,550 in notes and securities as a compromise, and in order to settle all monetary differences between them, as well as the sake of peace and harmony. He contended that his wife had property valued at $30,000.

The mother then filed an affidavit, in which she related the history of their courtship and marriage in the year 1871. Her husband, who was then employed by the California & Oregon Railway Company, was introduced to her by a mutual friend named Charles Fettigrew. In 1872 Mr. Faling proposed marriage, and was accepted by her, but her father, Charles Barrett, greatly opposed the match. The latter was a man of influence and wealth, and threatened to disinherit his daughter if she persisted in marrying the man of her choice. Mr. Barrett became weak and feeble and in 1873 the couple resumed the relations of husband and wife, and shortly after her father died they were married. The result of the intimacy was the birth of a child who, the mother acknowledged, was born out of wedlock, but she emphatically declared that Mr. Faling was its father. The court ordered the latter to pay $50 per month for the support and maintenance of the little girl. As a result of this controversy Charles J. D. Faling has filed suit for divorce from Xarifa J. Faling. The complaint contains thirty-one specific acts of alleged cruelty on his wife's part.

ITALY AND AMERICA.

Southern California, Its Delightful Climate, Resources and Capabilities.

Lucky Baldwin's Great Estate—His Fruit Ranches—Wonder and Surprise.

Permit me to occupy a small space in your paper for the purpose of giving your many readers a little information about a country that, at the present day, arouses no small amount of enquiry, as regards its delightful climate, resources and capabilities of not only supporting the present, but for sustaining a larger population of the general class of people searching for new homes in the west. Most eastern citizens come west for two objective reasons: First, wealth; second, to escape the severe winters. It is unnecessary in the columns of your paper to say that many, if not nearly all, have fallen far short of the first and principal object, as most of your readers will readily admit; but not quite so with the second. True they have escaped to some extent the cold blizzards so frequent on the other side of the mountains; but there, many, including the writer, draw the line, and are to some extent at a loss to know whether it is better to be frozen in a snow drift or drowned in a mud puddle. Consequently I know that not a few owing to slight disappointments in their first move have become chronically dissatisfied with everything; and those who do not contemplate returning to the land of winter hardships, but genuine life, have probably decided on a more southerly location. Those may, therefore, welcome a few inadequate hints given by the writer from personal observations of this immense State—

THE ITALY OF AMERICA.

In this letter it will be my pleasure to describe one of the adjoining valleys of this city, which shall answer for all; they being much like the gigantic arms of an octopus, producers for the sustenance of the one center, Los Angelos, "the city of the Angels." Leaving by an early train, a small party were hurried around a jutting wing of the San Gabriel Mountains and in the course of an hour were landed on the estate of a Mr. Baldwin—locally known as "Lucky" Baldwin—some 15 miles from the city, and at the most southern end of the San Gabriel valley. This estate comprises 63,000 acres, being one of the largest in the valley. It is principally all utilized for grazing, cropping or fruit culture; the last being the most lucrative source of revenue. Mr. Baldwin remarked that he had only 1,200 acres in grapes some 2 in oranges, and pears, lemons, peaches, limes, etc., in smaller tracts. His home is a most unpretentious dwelling, being thoroughly Mexican, and upwards of 100 years old. Mrs. B. kindly satisfied a pent up desire by requesting us to view the interior of the trim old relic. Of course the modern improvements a millionaire can lavish upon even an old Mexican adobe house, made it quite resemble an antique palace. To the right of his residence stood his club house, around which was an artifical lake, supplied by the water of an artesian well located in the foregrounds, &c.' which cost many thousand dollars. From these buildings and the adjoining barns and outbuildings, stretched forth

THE IMMENSE GROVES

of oranges, lemons, apricots, and numerous other fruits, with teeming acres of grapes hanging in large bunches ready for the wine-press, which stood near at hand. As far as one could see, to right or left, spread that seemingly endless fruit, grain and vegetable valley, here and there dotted with the rancho of some ranchero, and his little black urchins playing in the bone patch of melons. Leaving this home of peace and plenty we wended our way to the train and moved back to the City of Pasadena, situated near by the centre of the valley. Here surprise and wonder chased each other around our heads until our eyes became treacherous and we hardly knew whether to trust them. For a truth this is a place of pure delight—especially in the winter, when the trees become cleansed with the fall rains, when the contrast of the many fruits and the dark green foliage is most perfect; when the orange, lemon, pear, peach, apricot, dates, figs, bananas, apples, plums, prunes, and limes are viling one with the other for supremacy in this great

GREAT NATURAL GROVE OF NATURE.

Then this surely is a land "flowing with milk and honey." Here, we exclaimed, one finds a land of welcome, a land without fences; where all is apparently but one ranch, and public roads but byways, and lanes through the many groves of the fruit bearing trees, where grapes lie in abundance close to the buggy path, and no sign says "Beware of the dog," or "Trespassers punished according to law," where the small boy never fills his hat or pockets but replenishes the furnace of life and walks away content, though uncomfortable, where the broad palm stretches forth its leaves in token of a hearty welcome, and the century plant answers as line fences and corner posts, where limes are used as ornamental hedges, and wine almost plentiful enough for irrigation. Where the farm laborer makes his bed with a single blanket under the shade of some large stunted oak; where the nights are cool, and the days warm.

HERE, OH PASADENA,

may I in my old age when a monotonous life shall be one of pleasure, come and end my days in thy groves. After a farewell view of as much of the valley as the eye could cover from the top of the great Raymond hotel, situated on one of the highest hills in the vicinity of Pasadena, we pulled out our handkerchiefs—which resembled the stars and stripes, so dirty had they become from dust and perspiration, and waved a fond adieu to one of the finest gardens of California. Not wishing to take up too much space, I shall content myself by describing one of the arms of the octopus this time, but in my next it will please me to give your readers a few jottings concerning the body which the nations call the "Queen City of California," and do so very justly, according to the view of your much delighted correspondent JNO. S.

The Department of Agriculture telegraphed instructions to McEachran, veterinary inspector, to slaughter 24 head of Polled-Angus cattle and four calves brought for Andrew Allan with McCraa's importation already slaughtered

FRUIT CULTURE.

It is now conceded that Vancouver Island, as well as a large portion of the mainland, is specially adapted to fruit culture and that an unlimited market for such fruit as can be raised will be found in the Northwest. Already a considerable trade between this city and points east as far as Calgary has sprung up, the shipments averaging about a ton per day. A much larger trade would be done were it not for the high rates exacted by the express company for transporting fruit. The charges now are far in excess of the tariff from Portland to St. Paul—the rates there being 3½c per pound, while from Victoria to Winnipeg they are 7c. There is just cause for complaint in this matter, for corresponding distances over any other transcontinental system, or on the eastern line, are very much lower.

The railway company declines to accept of fruit of a perishable nature to be transported in the ordinary manner; so that the express company have a monopoly of such classes of fruit as are considered to be perishable. Already a considerable reduction has been made in the scale at first promulgated. A further cut must come ere the rate will be considered satisfactory. While willing to pay a higher scale than that charged by other systems, in consideration of the physical difficulties in operating a mountainous section, we submit that a reduction of 25 per cent. would tend to stimulate traffic and foster a large market for our fruit and fish in the East.

The following letter written to THE TIMES, by Mr. Wyman Clark, representing the Fonthill, Ont., nurseries, but echoes the opinion expressed by everyone who has given the subject of fruit culture in British Columbia the slightest consideration. Mr. Clark says:

After more than a three weeks sojourn in the delightful city of Victoria, please allow me to express through the columns of your valuable paper, my hearty appreciation of her very courteous people, and her most salubrious climate. It is my settled conviction that no intelligent men visiting Vancouver Island would fail to discover the many advantages possessed by her people, for the promotion of her material wealth. In my humble judgment none is of greater importance to the agriculturist than the adaption of the climate and soil of the island to fruit growing. I think this should be made a subject of interest to all her people. Through the courtesy of your esteemed citizen, Thomas Trounce, Esq., I was last week shown through his extensive fruit and flower garden, and there had pointed out to me apples, pears and plums, equal and in many respects superior in size and flavor to those grown in Ontario, the acknowledged garden of Canada for fruit growing.

THE AMETHYST.

A San Francisco despatch of the 26th says the whaling tender, Thomas Pope, Capt. Fisher, arrived in port from the Arctic this afternoon. Concerning the whaler Amethyst, for whose search has been conducted in the Arctic, Capt. Fisher says it is the general opinion of shipmasters north that both the vessel and the crew have been lost. Capt. Healey, of the revenue cutter Bear, has heard from all along the shores of the Arctic on both sides, and nothing has been seen of either the ship or the crew. Natives of the Aleutian islands have also failed to hear anything. Under these circumstances it is thought by those who have heretofore been most sanguine that the vessel and crew are gone. In addition to this, it is learned that in October last a vessel was seen by Captain Toby, of the bark Abram Barker, in about latitude 32.50, south of the islands, and about 100 miles south of Onnimak pass, which was evidently not under command. At that time it was thought this might be the Dawn, which had some trouble with her steering apparatus. It is known now that this was not the Dawn, and no other vessel could have been in this position except the Amethyst. The supposition among shipmasters is that the ship was abandoned, and the vessel was taken by a strong current safely through some pass to the south of the islands, and that the crew, who took to the boats, were lost.

PHOTOGRAPHING CANADA.

Prof. O. B. Buell, the official photographer of the Canadian Pacific Railway, with his assistants, will take views of the most noteworthy scenery along the line from Vancouver to Halifax. Waterfalls, cascades, mountains, rivers, lakes, towns, cities and villages will all be faithfully reproduced, and when the collection is completed it will be the largest and finest and excel any other in the world. The object of this great work is for the purpose of showing the beauties and wonders of Canada from a scenic point of view to the inhabitants of Europe, and Great Britain in particular. Prof. Buell is now at the terminus, where he has secured a great many views. The company has arranged in conjunction with the government—when the series of photographic pictures is completed—to have them shown on a screen with suitable descriptive lectures, before audiences in the principal towns throughout the United Kingdom. The number of subjects reproduced will be so large that six nights will be occupied in showing them, and from 200 to 300 will be displayed on each evening.

WILL APPLY TO VICTORIA.

There is a lesson for other places in the experience of Brockville. The Monitor says: "On the 1st of last July the insurance rating of Brockville was reduced from schedule D to C, making a difference of 11 per cent in favor of the insurance of the city. When the fire alarm, now contracted for, is completed Brockville will be placed on schedule B, making a further reduction in favor of the insured of nearly 6 per cent. The total reduction on the whole amount of insurance paid in Brockville will equal if not exceed the amount paid to the Water Works company for the use of the hydrants, and Brockville, in addition, will have free water for her streets, for flushing drains, for school houses and for other public buildings." The fact is there is no investment that a town can make calculated to secure better returns than an efficient system of fire protection. The good results are both immediate and lasting.

A prominent Nova Scotia politician now here says the general belief there is that Sir John has sent for Sir Charles Tupper to consult about the present difficult position of the government, and to urge him to re-enter the Cabinet as Finance Minister. If Tupper returns he will seek election in Cumberland.

The Toronto coal conspiracy case is dragging wearily along. Another adjournment was made until Thursday, when the Crown counsel promise to conclude the case, which has gone so far.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. Lewis Lewis is in Montreal.

Mr. Phillips is in Chicago.

Dr. Praeger returned from the mainland last week.

Mr. D. A. Shannan, England; C. Woodman, Boston, are at the Driard.

Mr. W. F. Bullen was a passenger by the Yosemite last night.

Mr. A. B. Gray returned from a business visit to the mainland last night.

A telegam from Mr. John Boyd, who is now in Toronto, says he will arrive home about the 11th of next month.

At the Driard: S J Pykin, London; Mr and Mrs Harold Engelbach, Dublin; W V Metcalf, Walla Walla; W Allen, Vancouver; W E Hurd, Portland.

The Hon. David Mills, ex-Minister of the Interior, and at present M. P. for Bothwell, Ont., and Mr. James Armstrong M. P. for South Middlesex, are en route to this coast.

Lieut.-Governor Dewdney left on Saturday last for Banff and British Columbia. His trip is taken on account of ill health. He will return in six weeks.

At the Oriental: A N Farewell, Bath, England; Mrs Punch, New Westminster; J C Henderson, Chilliwhack; H Wiltenberg, Portland; B Schott, Portland.

Mr. F. Fiumerfelt, representing Ames, Holden & Co., the leading boot and shoe firm of the east, arrived last night from Winnipeg. He comes to stay, and is accompanied by Mrs. Fiumerfelt. Their new wholesale warehouse on Wharf street will be opened in a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Macdonald have decided on remaining in the city for a few months longer, so charmed are they with Victoria, its surroundings, its climate and its people. They have secured rooms at Mrs. Beavens', Pandora avenue, where they will be pleased to see their friends.

Mr. Horace Thorne, barrister, Toronto, is in this city. Mr. Thorne is interested in a tract of land near Vancouver, bought by him some years ago. The investment is likely to turn out to be a profitable one.

Hon. Elijah Leonard, a member of the Dominion Senate, of London, Ont., arrived from the east last night, and is registered at the Driard. Mr. Leonard is a prominent business man of London the Lesser, and has for a great many years been largely interested in manufacturing. He is a Liberal in politics, and has been a senator since confederation, having, previous to the union, served as a legislative councillor in the last old parliament. He will remain in the city for a few days and will return home via San Francisco.

Mr. James McMullen, M. P., left for home this morning. Mr. McMullen returns with a different opinion of this province and its resources to that hitherto entertained by him as well as by many in the east. It is to be hoped many more of our representative men will make it their business to visit the Northwest and extend their trip to the Pacific. Then they will be in a position to discuss intelligently matters appertaining to Canada's vast Northwest inheritance.

Yesterday morning, says the Winnipeg Free Press of the 25th inst, Sir Donald A. Smith, accompanied by Cyrus W. Field, Lord Anson, Mr. Watson, manager of the New York branch of the Montreal Bank, and Hon. Amias Northcote, son of Sir Stafford, arrived from the east in the official car, Metapedia, on their way to the Pacific. The party visited Sir Donald's farm at Silver Heights in the morning and spent the day looking over the city. Sir Donald received many congratulations from friends on the bestowal of the honor of knighthood upon him. To-day they go west to British Columbia.

Gen. W. T. Sherman has been quietly visiting points of interest in and about our city since his arrival on Friday. He will leave for the mainland and the East to-morrow morning. Gen. Sherman is a splendid type of democracy. Although he is to-day the greatest living American soldier—one of the most successful in the world—and the idol of a nation, he is as plain and unassuming as the humblest citizen in the land. Comparisons with celebrated generals of other nations, and particularly with our own Middleton (in respect to their personal and social characteristics only) might be in bad taste and we won't make them; but we may be permitted to remark that some of the kid-gloved soldiers could take a few lessons from the old hero that would be of immense advantage to themselves and the people they are supposed to serve.

Passengers by the Geo. E. Starr to-day: Mrs G Clark, Coffin, J E Gaudy, J P Howe, J Kinsinds, J Kuns, Bishop, Mrs Armstrong, Mrs DeBeck, M Aaird, M E Burton, Twiggs, A Trainer, Mrs Puston, Baner, B F Stafford, J Harrington and wife, L Tanner, Bull, Francis, Simpson, Miss Bland.

A BONANZA.

The Foster Mine at Pavilion Mountain—A Rich Deposit now being Developed.

An esteemed correspondent writing concerning the Foster mine at Clinton, says that there is no desire or wish on the part of the owners of this mine to circulate any reports in reference to it. Every semblance of the Cariboo excitement of 1878 will be avoided. Nothing but the naked truth, the bare facts, will be published. There are no shares for sale. Those who have already invested in the mine, will, in case of failure, be able to bear the loss without any inconvenience. The ledge has been known since '78, when two tunnels were run into the vein, and assays made. We failed, however, to convince outsiders of the quality of the rock, partly because the gold is carried in sulphurets, and partly from the great difficulty in getting machinery on the ground. The ledge is situated at the foot of Pavilion mountain, exposed for several hundred feet on the company's ground. To the north and south the vein is pinched out, and two claims south are considered valueless. Our assays are satisfactory, the company having a perfect outfit here. It now rests with the chlorinator to prove, when he has all appliances on the ground, adapted to the purpose, and the most modern machinery, that he can save the same amount of gold we do by assay. At the present time we are cutting a road five miles with white labor, so as to bring in machinery this fall, and expect to have the stamps at work this season. Much will depend on the weather. The mine is on an immense slide, surrounded by precipices. Immediately under our tunnels, about 2 feet, is the Fraser River canyon, and opposite is a bluff rock, inaccessible mountain. The place is a cul de sac, in which we have just room enough for machinery and workmen's quarters. Nature has arranged the flats just where most pluck is required to get the bonanza.

NEWS BY CABLE.

THE BULGARIAN CABINET.

LONDON, Aug. 30.—The Bulgarian cabinet has been remodelled, and it is now strongly anti-Russian. Nachevics, Foreign Minister, who was the leading spirit in the movement to counteract Seankoff's plot, by which Alexander was forced to abdicate, is left out. It is rumored that King Milan, of Servia, has expressed a desire to renew diplomatic and amicable relations with Bulgaria.

THE FRENCH CABINET.

PARIS, Aug. 30.—Jules Simon publishes a letter in which he predicts that France will eventually become a consolidated republic, which he declares to be the only stable government for Frenchmen. It is stated that it is the purpose of De Freycinet to remove from the Cabinet three radical members, including Gen. Boulanger, Minister of War, and Granet, Minister of Posts and Telegraphs.

CHOLERA STATISTICS.

ROME, Aug. 30.—The cholera returns for to-day: Barletta, ten new cases and two deaths; Don Giovanni Rotanda, fifteen new cases and eight deaths; Malfitta, ten new cases, eight deaths; Ravenna, twelve new cases and twelve deaths. In five other towns the average has been eight new cases and two deaths.

ALEXANDER TO RETURN.

SOFIA, Aug. 29.—Prince Alexander has telegraphed to the regency to announce to the people his intention of returning to Sofia. The rebellious troops have submitted and will not be punished, on condition that they quit the country. The revolution was quite a bloodless one, and no further opposition is feared.

WALLACE ROSS DEFEATED.

LONDON, Aug. 30.—The heat between Matheson, the Australian, and Wallace Ross, was won easily by the former, who finished six lengths in front of the Canadian. Eleven to ten was bet that Ross would win.

TEEMER WINS THE RACE.

LONDON, Aug. 30.—The first trial heat in the international sculling match was rowed to-day, Teemer, of America, and Perkins, of England, being the contestants. Teemer won.

FATAL RAILWAY ACCIDENT.

VIENNA, Aug. 30.—In the railway collision at Modling, eight miles from here, seven persons were killed and twenty-two wounded.

THE BELFAST RIOTERS.

BELFAST, Aug. 30.—A number of men engaged in the recent riots in this city have been sentenced to terms of imprisment varying from 2 to 19 months.

TO TAX IMPORTED HOPS.

LONDON, Aug. 28.—It is reported that the British government is prepared to concede the demand of English hop growers to impose a small import duty on foreign hops.

A STARTLING NAVAL DISCOVERY.

LONDON, Aug. 28.—A tremendous scare prevails in naval circles, arising from a startling discovery in the Shoeburyness official gun trials. Among the shells experimented with and used against a heavy target, representing sections of armoured ships of war, was one recently adopted by the French government for the army and navy. For the purpose of testing it a target of eighteen inch plate was used, with nine feet of backing and a ten inch plate beyond. The shells penetrated the entire mass, and when found was so little affected as to be almost fit for use again. The most powerful shells of regulation pattern, trained against similar targets, have utterly failed to accomplish anything like the same execution. The shell revolutionizes naval warfare. English naval experts declare there is not an ironclad afloat capable of withstanding guns firing such shells.

THE CANADA PACIFIC.

Great Success of the Enterprise—What is Said of it in New York.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—The Post's Montreal correspondent says the success attending the through traffic on the Canadian Pacific Railway has been greater than the most sanguine friends of the enterprise could wish for. Notwithstanding the fact that its Pacific connections by sea and by land are not yet completed, and that the through service has only been in operation for six weeks, the receipts are far in excess of those of last year, which included over one million dollars for transportation service in connection with the Northwest rebellion; while its net earnings are more than sufficient to pay a 3 per cent. dividend on the fixed charges. Great things are looked for with the completion of the Minneapolis, Sault St. Marie and Atlantic Railway, which is to connect the Canada Pacific with St. Paul via Sault St. Marie. This will be an all rail direct route for cattle, flour and grain from the west to Boston, and as short a line as any other to New York.

JUMPS FROM BROOKLYN BRIDGE.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Lawrence Donovan, a printer employed on a weekly paper, jumped from the Brooklyn bridge for a wager of $500 at 5:30 this morning. A boat was in the river containing some friends, who picked him up. He was not injured by the jump. Lawrence Donovan, the hero, is a pressman. He wore a pair of heavily padded drawers and his shoes were blue canvas, the soles of which were weighed with two pounds of lead.

BASE BALL.

PORTLAND, (Or.) Aug. 28.—The Reds omitted the field during the last half of the eighth inning, and the umpire declared the game in favor of the Portlands. The visitors refused to abide by the decision of the umpire relative to Buchtel, who was at third scoring on a balk, Buchtel walking home instead of running.

Seattles withdrew from the field at the end of eighth inning on account of unjust decisions of Umpire Marshal. Runs—Seattle 4, Portland 5; hits—Seattle 5 Portland 1; errors—Seattle 5, Portland 8.

The present condition of the shipping trade of Glasgow is the worst on record. Thirty-four steamers and 23 sailing vessels are rotting at their docks, having been idle some two years. This state of affairs is attributed to the low freights and the general depression in business.

Five hundred policemen and troops left Birr, Ireland, yesterday, to assist at evictions on the estates of the Marquis Clanricard in Galway. The Birr branch of the National League has given notice to tradesmen not to supply the evicting party with provisions or means of conveyance.

AN ODIOUS REGULATION.

A case has just occurred in the United States which reveals its tariff regulations in an odious light; it is that of levying duties upon the coverings and cases of dutiable goods. By the tariff act of March 3, 1883, only the value of the merchandize imported in coverings or cases is held to be dutiable, and the usual and necessary coverings and cases containing such merchandize is exempted from duty. On January 25th last, a decision was given by Justice BLATCHFORD for the Supreme Court of the United States, in the case of OBERTUEFFN vs. ROBERTSON, which still more strongly emphasized the meaning of the tariff act of 1883. In the case in question, OBERTUEFFN, a New York importer, entered an action to recover $140.80 of excess duty imposed upon the coverings of gloves and hosiery, on which an ad valorem duty had been levied. He pleaded the act of 1883, and was sustained in his contention by the Supreme Court. The grounds upon which the customs authorities had imposed the excess duties are contained in the last clause of the 7th section of the act of 1883, which is to the following effect: "Provided that, if any packages, sacks, crates, boxes or coverings of any kind shall be of any material or form designed for use otherwise than in the transportation of goods to the United States, the same shall be subject to duty of 100 per cent. ad valorem upon the actual value of the same." The opinion of the supreme court, given by Justice Blatchford, says in regard to this clause of the act: "This implies that if the boxes or coverings of any kind are not of a material or form designed to evade duties thereon, and are designed to be used in the bona fide transportation of goods to the United States, they are not subject to duty." A circular from the treasury department at Washington was attached to the above opinion, which, after reciting the circumstances of the Obertueffin case, goes on to say:

"It will be seen that the supreme court now decides that such action on the part of the appraiser and collector was erroneous, and that under the provisions of sec. 7 of the act of March 3rd, 1883, neither the cost of the cartoons and other inside coverings, nor the charges incident to the packing of the goods for shipment are elements of dutiable value. The rule thus laid down in this decision will be applied to all future importations and unliquidated entries, and also to all entries where the requirements of law as to protest and appeal institution of suit, etc., have been fully complied with.

"(Signed) C. S. FAIRCHILD,
"Acting Secretary."

In the face of the act of 1883 the recent decision of the Supreme Court and the above circular to the collector of customs, certain Boston importers of canned mackerel were last week compelled to pay the 100 per cent. duty upon the cans in which the fish were put up. It is probable that the Gloucester fish interest is at the bottom of the order from the treasury that imposes this onerous impost upon importers. The same plea is set up as in the Obertueffin case, that the cans are liable to the 100 per cent. ad valorem duty by the act of 1883, inasmuch as they are of a material and form designed to evade duties. The contention is simply absurd. The fish cans in question are of the usual material and form and have been so from time prior to the passage of the act of 1883. It is ridiculous to contend that they are not employed in the bona fide transportation of goods to the United States. They in every way satisfy the conditions laid down by the act providing for their exemption from duty. Their only crime is that they contain Canadian fish. The action of the American authorities is merely a very small piece of what our neighbors call "retaliation" for being deprived of the use of our waters.

The Marquis of Lorne is coming to Canada soon. He will be doubly welcome if he is in a position to announce that he has persuaded his "awful dad," the Duke of Argyll, to cease oppressing the poor crofters of Tiree, who have been bayonetted into temporary submission. We like to see British noblemen anxious about Canada's welfare, but there is a field for their missionary labors nearer home, which should not be neglected.

WOOL TO BE KING.

Cotton King is to be deposed and wool to reign in its stead—at least so says an eminent Stuttgart professor who has lately discovered an almost universal panacea in wool. According to his theory the body's liability to disease is in direct proportion to the amount of water it contains, and the wearing of woollen garments promotes evaporation from the surface of the skin to an extent unapproached by stuffs made of vegetable fibre, such as linen and cotton. Should the learned professor's advice and example be followed the outward man and woman of the nineteenth century will undergo a noticeable modification. It is not a mere question of underclothing by any means. The starched linen shirt is to be relegated to the same limbo as cotton vests and socks. Not only are our coats and trousers to be of wool, but even the silken linens of the former garments are to be incontinently ripped away. Linen collars and cuffs are to disappear, as well as kid gloves and silk hats; wool is to be the only wear. Our very boots are to be woollen, and our woollen stockings are to fit the toes as gloves. We are to sleep upon woollen stuffed and covered mattresses and pillows, between woollen sheets and under woollen counterpanes. Woollen carpets are to cover our floors and woollen curtains our windows. The professor even goes so far as to hazard the suggestion that wool may ultimately affect the morals of the race; so that, instead of sending our criminals to prison, we shall only have to clothe them in wool and from wolves they will become lambs.

AN OBJECT OF SUSPICION.

Hon. WM. MCDOUGALL writes the Globe that Mr. SMITH, of SMITH & RIPLEY, contractors, informed him that the CHAPLEAUS had demanded 10 per cent. of the $83,000 paid by the Dominion Government to the firm; that he (MCDOUGALL) did not see the money paid the Hon. J. A. CHAPLEAU; that Mr. SMITH and his partner gave him as a reason for only paying $2000 for four years' professional services that they had been compelled to pay large sums to people who had done nothing but use influence with the Government; that he (MCDOUGALL) believes that Mr. CHAPLEAU received a large part of the solatium ($8,300). He adds that the difficulty of the SMITH & RIPLEY case was caused by the bad advice given by Mr. CHAPLEAU for the $1500 which he acknowledges to have taken from the firm. It is natural that CHAPLEAU should plead not guilty to this and similar charges, but if he is innocent, how did he become a rich man so suddenly? A politician, either at Ottawa or Washington, who has no visible means of support except his salary, and who adds to his accumulated wealth each year a sum far in excess of his salary, is naturally an object of suspicion.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

LONDON Advertiser: Now that Sir JOHN is getting back from the Pacific slope, it is given out that Messrs. MCLELAN and FOSTER are about to take the trip. The Pacific slope seems to need a good deal of government looking after this season.

His Excellency the Governor-General-in-Council has granted a copy of the confederation medal to Messrs. Joseph Hickson, general manager of the Grand Trunk Railway Company; Sanford Fleming, C. M. G., C. E., and the Rev. Dr. Scadding, author of "Toronto of Old."

A Port Hawksbury dispatch to the Halifax Chronicle says: The Chronicle correspondent is informed that Senator William McDonald is to be made Lieut.-Governor of one of the new provinces to be made out west, and Mr. H. F. McDougall, M. P., is to be made a Senator, the county of Cape Breton to be represented by the Minister of Justice, after the next election, if successful.

THE evidence from the Maritime Provinces goes to show that the alleged fisheries protection by the Dominion cruisers is a farce. The cruisers are careful to keep away from the American fishing vessels, which prosecute their industry near the shore and obtain supplies at the ports, just as they did before the expiration of the treaty. It was hardly worth Minister Foster's while to pay $50,000 to a New Yorker for a ship worth $10,000, if he means to make no effective use of his "navy."

The handsome young man at St. John, N. B., whose relatives are bewailing his fate in being sentenced to imprisonment for life for indecent assault is simply receiving his deserts. No maudlin sentiment on the part of the public should be bestowed in a quarter where it is not deserved. The dastardly crime of which he was guilty is becoming too common to be dismissed with a light sentence. The fact that it was committed while the man was drunk cannot palliate the offence one whit. A merciless prosecution inspiring evil-doers with terror is the best means of stamping out crimes of this detestable nature.

MONTREAL Star: People who complain of errors in the newspapers are often the very ones who refuse to give the slightest information to the reporters. The latter are always anxious to be aided in their work and anxious to be accurate. A story is told of a policeman who would not allow a reporter to gain access to a building which was on fire, on the plea that the latter could read all about it in the paper next morning. Many people seem to think that the reporters can get information without asking questions, making enquiries or interviewing. To this latter process many unreasonably object, but if they would consider fully the matter, they must see that they protect themselves and confer a service on the public by making themselves accessible to reporters.

Parnell's amendment was rejected by a vote of 304 to 181. Hartington and Chamberlain and the Unionists supported the government, Wm. Vernon Harcourt abstaining from voting and Mr. Morley voted with the minority. The announcement of the result caused little excitement.

A BYLAW

For Raising the Sum of $50,000 for the Improvement of Streets and Sidewalks and the Rebuilding of James Bay Bridge.

Whereas it is necessary that the condition of the streets should be improved, the dilapidated sidewalks renewed, and the present unsafe bridge across James Bay replaced by a substantial structure;

And whereas the estimated cost of the said improvements and works is $50,000, which sum it is proposed to raise by way of loan upon the credit of the said city as hereinafter mentioned;

And whereas it will require the sum of $2941 to be raised annually by special rate for the payment of the debt intended to be hereby created and the interest thereon;

And whereas the amount of the whole rateable property of the said city, according to the last revised Assessment Roll, is $5,178,803;

And whereas it will require an annual special rate of 1-18 of one cent in the dollar for paying the interest and creating an equal yearly sinking fund for paying the principal of the said intended debt according to the Municipality Act, 1881;

And whereas it is intended to reduce the general rate so that the said special rate shall not increase the total rate of taxation;

Be it therefore enacted by the Council of the Corporation of the City of Victoria as follows:

1. It shall be lawful for the Mayor of the said city to raise by way of loan from any person or persons, body or bodies corporate, who may be willing to advance the same upon the credit of the debentures hereinafter mentioned, a sum of money not exceeding in the whole the sum of $50,000, and to cause the same to be paid into the hands of the Treasurer of the said city for the purpose and with the object hereinbefore recited.

2. It shall be lawful for the said Mayor to cause any number of debentures to be made for such sum of money as may be required, either in currency or sterling money, not less than $500 or the sterling equivalent, each; and all such debentures shall be sealed with the seal of the said Corporation and signed by the Mayor.

3. The said debentures shall be made payable in thirty years from the day hereinafter mentioned for this by-law to take effect, at the office of the Treasurer, City Hall Victoria, and shall have attached to them coupons for the payment of interests.

4. The said debentures shall bear interest at the rate of five per cent per annum from the date thereof, which interest shall be payable half-yearly at the office of the said Treasurer.

5. For the purpose of forming a sinking fund for the payment of the said debentures and the interest to become due thereon an equal special rate of 1-18 of one cent in the dollar shall, in addition to all other rates be raised, levied, and collected, in each year upon all rateable property within the said city during the continuance of the said debentures or any of them.

6. It shall be lawful for the said Corporation, from time to time, to repurchase any of the said debentures at such price or prices as shall in each case be mutually agreed; and all debentures so repurchased shall be forthwith cancelled, and no reissue of debentures or any debenture shall be made in consequence of such repurchase.

7. This by-law shall, before the final passing thereof, receive the assent of the electors of the said Corporation in the manner provided by the Municipality Act, 1881, and shall take effect on the 1st day of October, 1886.

8. This by-law may be cited as the Street and Bridge Loan By-law, 1886.

Passed the Municipal Council the 11th day of August, A. D. 1886.

Received the assent of the Ratepayers the 24th day of August, A. D. 1886.

Reconsidered and finally passed by the Council the 25th day of August, A. D. 1886.

To Enable the Corporation of the City of Victoria to Raise the Sum of $75,000 for Water Works purposes.

Whereas it is expedient to raise a further sum of money for the purpose of extending the Water Works, constructing Reservoirs to ensure a more certain and equable supply of water to all parts of the city, for carrying on the said Water Works upon such a scale as may be necessary to furnish an adequate supply of fresh water to the largely increased and increasing population of the city, for the greater protection of the city against fire, and for other purposes in connection with the said Water Works.

And whereas, for the purposes aforesaid, it is intended to raise by way of loan upon the credit of the said city the sum of $75,000.

And whereas it will require the sum of $3307 to be raised annually by special rate for paying the debt intended to be hereby created and the interest thereon.

And whereas the amount of the whole rateable property of the said Corporation according to the last revised assessment roll is $5,178,803.

And whereas for paying the interest and creating an equal yearly sinking fund for paying the principal of the said debt intended to be hereby created according to the Municipality Act, 1881 an annual special rate of 1-20 one cent in the dollar will be required.

And whereas it is intended to reduce the general rate so that the said special rate shall not increase the total rate of taxation.

Be it therefore enacted by the Mayor and Council of the Corporation of the City of Victoria as follows:

1. It shall be lawful for the Mayor of said city, to raise by way of loan from any person or persons or body or bodies corporate who may be willing to advance the same upon the credit of the debentures hereinafter mentioned a sum of money not exceeding in the whole, the sum of $75,000, and to cause the same to be paid into the hands of the Treasurer of the said Corporation for the purpose and with the object hereinbefore recited.

2. It shall be lawful for the said Mayor to cause any number of debentures to be made for such sums of money as may be required either in currency or sterling money not less than $100, or the sterling equivalent of that sum, each and all which debentures shall be sealed with the common seal of the said Corporation and signed by the Mayor.

3. The said debentures shall be made payable in thirty years from the day hereinafter mentioned for this by-law to take effect, at the office of the Treasurer of the said Corporation, City Hall, Victoria, and shall have attached to them coupons for the payment of the interest.

4. The said debentures shall bear interest at the rate of five per cent per annum from the date there of which interest shall be payable half yearly at the office of the said Treasurer.

5. For the purpose of forming a sinking fund for the payment of the said debentures and the interest to become due thereon an equal special rate of 1-20 of one cent in the dollar shall in addition to all other rates be raised levied and collected in each year upon all rateable property within the said City of Victoria during the continuance of the said debentures or any of them.

6. It shall be lawful for the said Corporation, from time to time, to repurchase any of the said debentures at such price as all in each case be mutually agreed; and all debentures so repurchased shall be forthwith cancelled, and no reissue of debentures or any debenture shall be made in consequence of such repurchase.

7. This Bylaw shall take effect on the 1st day of October, 1886.

8. This Bylaw may be cited for all purposes as the Water Works Loan Bylaw, 1886.

Passed the Municipal Council the 4th day of August, A. D. 1886.

Received the assent of the Ratepayers the 24th day of August, A. D. 1886.

Reconsidered and finally passed the Council the 25th day of August, A. D. 1886.

SIR,—We the undersigned having witnessed the terrible fire which wiped out of existence the young city of Vancouver, on the 13th inst., have, after the fire, examined the safes sold by you, some of which were put to the most severe test, having been surrounded by large quantities of lard and beeds, and we are pleased to testify to the remarkable manner in which every safe sold by you preserved its contents, not only books and papers, but also thousands of dollars in paper money were taken out in perfect condition. We can, therefore, with the greatest confidence, recommend them as thoroughly fire proof.

NEGRO LIFE ON JAMES ISLAND.

How Colored Folks Exist on the Sea-Girt Isles Near Charleston, S. C.

It was communion Sunday, and the mulatto preacher delivered a sermon well worth hearing, judging from the last part of it. As soon as they were outside, however, the laughing and chattering was immense. Everybody laughed, everybody shook hands and smiled and chattered, with "How-a, how-a, Miss Lucy; gwyne 'long ouah way?" "Not 'amornin', Mr. Jeffahs—gwyne 'Sessionville way wid Aunt Polly?" "How you uns long o' dis week, Uncle Reuben?" "So't o' poahly, t'ank you, Ben, but strivin'—step in and see Aunt Polly to-night." "Try to, uncle, God willin'," and so on, by the hundred. And as I walked on I could hear them for a mile or more as they laughed in childish glee. But I could understand their words, which is more than I can say for those on the south side of the island, whose talk is little more than a barbarous guttural.

The common life of the negroes is indescribably rude and cheap. Not one cabin in ten has 45 worth of furniture in it. Every article in many of them could not be forced to a sale in Indiana. In some there are no bedding except a quilt for each one, and with it a pile of cotton, rags, or dried moss. Frequently there are no dishes in the house except gourds and the cooking utensils. It is very rare to see a book or paper. For chairs they generally use a box picked up at the nearest store. But they have "Sunday clothes"—the exceptions are very few—and make their best appearance on that day. The abundance of fish, oysters, and clams helps them greatly, especially in these hard times. No whisky is sold on James' island. There is no school for whites, but the colored schools are fairly well conducted and run three months; teachers' salaries $25 per month. The advances made by factors on last year's crop are not yet repaid, as the cyclone destroyed the cotton; so advances are slow this spring. Even the carts and mules are mortgaged, and the poverty of ordinary times is now intensified. Pearl grits cost the laborer $1.40 per bushel, one bushel lasting a man a month when he uses no bread, as many do not. A rather poor article of bacon is retailed at 7 cents. Groceries retail as with us; but the negro buys very little now.

Only the better families ever use coffee. Butter ranks as a luxury. The lank cows which graze on the salt marshes yield a thin article of milk—six or seven quarts a day in the season; in the coldest weather they go dry. A stout woman can earn 40 cents a day in the field, and a man 50. There is very little home life among the colored. Their cabins are generally so small and uncomfortable that the family is never in them except when it rains or is extremely cold. The past winter was the coldest ever known on the islands, and following the losses by cyclone caused much suffering. In more than one family the bread and bacon are now reserved for those only who work in the field; the children and older people, the decrepit and the idle, live on grits and the products of the creeks, such as oysters, fish, clams, and even muscles. One hears very little merriment on a working-day. The people cheer up when they meet on Sunday and chatter like a flock of parrots; but the prevalent feeling seems to be a sad one. On the whole the experience of a day and a half here is rather depressing, and I do not admire the prospect of a journey from here to Beaufort.—"Parke's" Letter in Chicago Times.

The Diet Treatment of Disease.

Milner Fothergill, one of the most charming and sensible of medical teachers, writes that the advocacy of dietetics in the treatment of disease is the absorbing topic of the present time. To him, indeed, it is the great therapeutic matter of the day, and he feels in duty bound to lend it what aid he can. Of the necessity of some systematic teaching of dietetics in a course of medical education no one can entertain a doubt. It is surely as desirable that a medical man be taught how to feed a patient acutely ill as how to prescribe for him. If it be a pyrexia, it is as desirable to maintain the strength and call as little as possible upon the bodily reserves as it is to keep down the body temperature. To prevent exhaustion both matters must receive attention. Every sick person is more or less dyspeptic, and dyspepsia requires appropriate and suitable food. Many dyspeptics can alone perform their daily toil by a watchful attention to their food and requirements.—Chicago News.

Preservative Action of Common Salt.

Ever since the days of Lot's wife the antiseptic and preservative action of chloride of sodium, or common salt, has been generally known. Plates of salt have been placed on coffins and dead bodies from time immemorial, probably from some ill-understood idea of its sanitary virtues. The addition of a little vinegar to a dish of salt causes the disengagement of chloride, which is a potent antiseptic and disinfectant. During the prevalence of epidemic diseases, of where the drinking water is liable to contamination with organic matters from any cause, it may be well to increase the amount of salt taken with the daily food, as the gastric juices would disengage a certain amount of free chloride in the stomach.—Chicago News.

What a Professional Tattoer Says.

"I have two men who come here every day whom I am tattooing all over the body, from the neck to the ankles. One of them will go to Australia after it is done, and the other goes in a dime museum here at $25 a week as the escaped shipwrecked mariner. They come here for three bouts every day for four months, and pay me $160 each when done. Yesterday I had two ladies up here to be tattooed. On one I worked a star and a name upon her pretty arm," sighed the brawny artist. "No, I don't have many lady patrons, but some of the sea captains's wives have it done, for you know it is a cure for rheumatism and a sure preventive.—San Francisco Exchange.

Visual Perception of Colors.

Sensations of vision require a definite time of exposure of the retina, which time Mr. J. M. Cattell of the university of Leipsic, finds to be considerably dependent on the nature of the object and the intensity of the light. It varies with the several colors. Orange gives the quickest impression on the eye, and yellow closely follows it; then comes blue, red and green; while the retina is least sensitive to violet light, the time for which is from two or three times as long as the orange. By lamplight the eye works more slowly than by daylight, and the order of perceiving colors is changed to orange, red, yellow, violet and blue.—Arkansaw Traveler.

A New Kind of Burglar Alarm.

A new burglar alarm consists in a small weight which falls off a window when raised and explodes a thirty-two blank cartridge.

It is authoritatively stated that chlorine is one of the properties especially conducive to the durability of wood.

Mr. Parnell, it is said, probably receives the largest mail and sends the fewest reply of any similarly conspicuous politician in the world.

The Berlin police authorities have forbidden all public performances in theatres and circuses with trained lions and other wild animals

YACHTING ON THE ICE.

A SPORT PECULIARLY AMERICAN AND LITTLE KNOWN ELSEWHERE.

An Ice-Yacht the Swiftest of Human Contrivances—The Season for Sport on the Hudson—Accidents of Rare Occurrence.

Ice-yachting is a sport so peculiarly American that in other countries than this it is hardly known, and even here it is but little practiced off of the Hudson river. The ice-yacht is the swiftest of human contrivances, easily distancing a lightning-express train, and to a novice the experiences of a trip on an ice-yacht impelled by a stiff breeze are at once thrilling, exhilarating, and terrifying. The helmsman of one of these white-winged meteors sits or lies in the shallow cockpit aft, muffled in furs or the heaviest of clothing, and wearing goggles and a gauze mouth-protector. So easily is his craft steered that the slightest movement of the rudder skate causes her to swerve to one side like a skittish colt shying at some terrifying object. At the same time she must be made to pursue an erratic course to avoid the innumerable obstructions, fissures, air-holes and other causes of danger with which even the smoothest ice surfaces are beset.

As before a brisk the yacht exhibits a constant tendency to "rear" or ride on two runners while the third is lifted high in air, the crew of one or two men is stationed well out on the windward runner plank. Here they act as living ballast, and attempt by their weight to keep it down to its legitimate duty, and restrain its aerial tendencies. In this they are often unsuccessful, and they frequently find themselves whizzing through the keen air at a tremendous speed, and with no visible means of support.

ICE YACHTING ON THE HUDSON.

The greatest speed of these wonderful craft has been variously estimated at from sixty to eighty and even 100 miles an hour. It is certain that it has exceeded the rate of a mile a minute over measured courses, and it is also certain that it greatly exceeds that of the wind itself.

The season for ice-yachting on the Hudson rarely exceeds thirty days in the most favorable winter, and it is often limited to ten or a dozen, for, of course, only on hard, smooth ice can the sport be pursued with any degree of success. While it lasts, the enthusiastic ice yachtsman makes the most of it, and endures the most stinging cold for hours at a time without complaint while flying up, down, and across the broad river. His boat is appropriately named Snowflake, Icicle, Frost King, or Tempest, and no earthly pleasure is to him so great as to race with a rival yacht, or an express train along the river bank.

In spite of the awful speed at which these uncanny craft travel, serious accidents to their occupants are of rare occurrence, and fatal injuries are almost unknown. Of course upsets are comparatively frequent, but then an ice-yacht capsizes very slowly, and her crew have ample time to look out for themselves. It sometimes happens that one runner drops into a wide crack or fissure in the ice, or strikes some object over which it can not ride. The result of the sudden stoppage thus caused is that the mast and sails go by the board, and the members of the crew find themselves skimming over the ice far in advance of the wreck. Even in such cases the casualties are generally confined to bruises or slight abrasions, and thus the sport which to all appearances is so terribly dangerous is a comparatively safe one. —Harper's Bazar.

Life at the Morosini Home.

Conversing with a lady of my acquaintance recently, the daughter of Signor Morosini, shed a curious and melancholy light upon the domestic life from which she found refuge in the romantic fashion already fully described by the press. She said: "Imagine the life we led up there and in the city and I do not think you will blame me for what I did. We had a beautiful home, and were entirely shut out by its walls. We enjoyed every luxury possible, but had to enjoy them all alone. We met at breakfast, and papa read his papers and then went to the city and left us to ourselves. We met at lunch. In the afternoon papa came home and read his papers. Then we met at dinner, and after amusing ourselves as best we could for the evening we went to bed.

"This was our life day after day the year round. We had few visitors and were not permitted to visit. When we attended the opera we sat upright in a box, looking neither to right nor left, and were hurried there and hurried home again as if there was a pestilence in the streets. We had no gentlemen friends, and were permitted none of the most innocent intercourse with the few gentlemen who visited us. It was like living in a jail or a nunnery, with no one to talk to, no one to talk to you—a perfect machine of a life that always went the same way. Papa was kind, but so stern in his ideas that he seemed to regard it as a crime for us to think or act for ourselves in the trifling things. It was as melancholy as a constant funeral."—New York To-Day.

He Need Not Be Afraid.

"This," said Farmer Haywood to his city guest, as he pointed to a large field, "is where we keep our bull." "And we are going in there!" asked the guest. "Yes, but you need not be afraid. He is as gentle as a lamb except when he sees bright red. If you will take this chalk and chalk your nose we can pass through in safety." And the farmer chuckled softly to himself that night as he heard his guest packing his grip.—Rambler.

A Novel Way to Prolong Life.

"The notion of prolonging life by inhaling the breath of young women was" observes Dr. Wadd surgeon extraordinary to King William IV., in his "Memorandums, Maxims and Humors," "an agreeable delusion easily credited, and one physician, who had himself written on health, was so influenced by it that he actually took lodgings in a boarding school that he might never be without the proper atmosphere."

Col. Burnaby's Bad Manuscript.

It is impossible to publish the novel Col. Burnaby of The Guards, killed in the Soudan, left behind him, because no one has been able to decipher the manuscript. It has been examined by one who knew the author's hand writing well and has been in the hands of a "decipherist," but nothing can be made of it.—New York Sun.

Proverbial Happiness of a Couple.

The domestic facility of Mr. and Mrs. Hendricks was a proverb in Indiana. At a wedding ceremony in Shelbyville three years ago the officiating clergyman, after shaking hands with the newly married couple, gave them his benediction in these words: "May you be as happy as Mr. and Mrs. Hendricks are."

How to Bring in the Boys.

The police force of Laramie, W. T., are provided with black-snake whips to use on all boys found on the streets after 10 o'clock at night.—Inter Ocean.

How One Man Was Made Happy.

Stranger (addressing native)—What is the matter with that old, gray headed man? Is he drunk?

Native—Oh, no, he was never drunk in his life.

Stranger—Well, why does he kick up his heels that way?

Native—He's happy.

Stranger—Lottery prize?

Native—Oh, no. His grandfather wrote an article for a magazine and it has just been published.—Arkansaw Traveler.

and it is a well known fact that for years he has confined himself to the study and treatment of Seminal and Chronic Diseases, thus giving him advantages over persons. Dr. Vanmoncisar addresses himself particularly to those who have already tried various physicians and remedies from whom they have received no benefits, and who, in fact, have come them more harm than good. Medicine, like all other sciences, is progressive, and every year proves of its advances by a combination of remedies of greater curative power. Dr. Vanmoncisar has so arranged his treatment that it will afford not only immediate relief, but permanent cure.

—Now that the shooting season is only a day off, hunters are getting their long-range rifles and shot-guns of every description greased, ready for the slaughter of the innocents. Already a number have left for the various hunting grounds to be on hand for the 1st.

The sporting season is fast approaching when Messrs. Curtis's & Harvey's world-renowned SPORTING POWDER will be in large demand. Dealers should secure their supplies in good time from MESSRS. ROBERT WARD & Co., the wholesale agents for B. C.

—The Canadian Pacific Railway Company intend to greatly increase the number and size of their workshops, as the traffic has increased considerably, necessitating an immense quantity of extra work. It is not yet decided whether the works will be established in Montreal, Toronto or Smith's Falls, on account of the heavy city assessments.

—The Sound steamers having been transferred to Turner, Beeton & Co.'s wharf, the warehouse formerly occupied by them will be used hereafter by the C. P. N. Co. for the accommodation of consignees by the C. P. R. Freight and baggage in bond remaining in this warehouse will be transferred at once by the customs authorities to their bonded warehouse.

—The Canadian Pacific people are figuring on running a cheap excursion from Winnipeg to the coast and return, with a special sleeper attached, provided a party of not less than 20 can be made up. The round-trip rate for the double journey, exclusive of sleeper, would be about $100, but if a larger number than 20 is secured the rate will be proportionately reduced.

—Michael McEwen, on remand from the 26th on a charge of stealing a watch from a friend, was further remanded for three days, awaiting the arrival of a witness from the mainland, for whom a summons is to be sent. The prisoner protests his innocence, and thinks it pretty hard that he must be kept here until witnesses arrive from Broadview or Regina, a couple of thousand miles away. He will be allowed his liberty on furnishing fifty dollars bail.

OUR BOYS ABROAD.

Winnipeg Sun: The British Columbia rifle team are stopping at the Queen's hotel, having arrived by the train last night. Their names are as follows: Col. Wolfenden, Major R. Prior, Capt. Jarves, Surgeon Trew, Sergts. Scouller, C. Roper, Bombadier Newbury, Gunner Sargison and W. J. Taylor, the secretary of the team. The boys, who are doing Winnipeg to-day, leave for Ottawa to-morrow.

So popular are the manufactures of Messrs. Curtis's & Harvey's that unscrupulous persons have imitated their gunpowder canisters and labels used by the firm for upwards of 50 years. Recent cases in Germany of infringements of their rights in this respect were restrained under heavy penalities.

As a result of the Indian chiefs visit to the capital they are likely to get what they ask for, in the way of additional industrial schools upon their reserves in the Northwest. Chief Pakan has been promised a portable grist mill on his reserve.

The bank statement for July is favorable. The assets are nearly $227,000,000 with liabilities of over $145,000,000.

THE LACROSSE MATCH.

What is said to be the first match game of lacrosse ever played in British Columbia was played at Beacon Hill Saturday afternoon, between the Vancouver and Victoria teams. A large number of spectators—many of them ladies—were attracted by the novelty of the game, and so keen was the interest taken in it that the cricket match which was going on on another part of the hill, was without a single spectator. The ball was faced at 3:05 by Quinlan for the Victorias and Hayward for the Vancouvers. The advantage of the face was in favor of Hayward who sent the ball towards the Victoria's goal. This advantage was of temporary duration, however, as the ball was speedily checked and as quickly sent in very dangerous proximity to the goal of the Vancouvers. From end to end of the field the ball traveled in rapid succession, affording endless amusement to the spectators and an immense amount of hard work to the players. At last after a desperate struggle and a hot contest the ball was finally put through the Victoria's goal by McNamee, thus giving the first game to the Vancouver boys. Time, 22 minutes. In the second game, after a contest in which both sides did good work, especially Warwick and Curran for the Vancouvers and Mackenzie, McLennan and Quinlan for the Victorias, the ball was again forced through the Victoria's goal by McNamee. A dispute arose as to whether the ball was actually put through and the umpire being asked for his decision refused to give it, on the ground that he was not sure. The dispute was finally decided by the referee in favor of the Vancouvers. Time, 15 minutes. With two games against them the home team seemed determined to win the third game and resumed the play with a rush and a dash which threatened to carry all before them. The ball was kept dangerously close to the Vancouver goal but was finally checked. Only for a short time, however, as it was back in the same vicinity, and by a neat piece of play forced through by Morrow. Time, 21 minutes. The fourth game was short and decisive, and was captured by the Vancouvers, the ball being put through for the third time by McNamee. Time, 12 minutes. This gave the Vancouvers the match. The following are the names of the players with the positions played:

VICTORIA.	POSITION.	VANCOUVER.
W. R. Lowe	Goal	J. W. Wells
W. G. McKenzie, Capt.	Point	W. Warwick
A. E. Wade	Cover Point	J. McNamee
W. Ledingham	1st Defence Field	W. J. Irving
H. R. Wootton	2d " "	A. McRae
J. P. Bush	3d " "	C. Glover
W. J. Quinlan	Centre	W. R. Hayward
H. F. McLennan	1st Home Field	A. C. Perry
E. Lowe	2d " "	T. Flannagan
E. Bodwell	1st " "	N. Morris
D. W. Morrow	Outside Home	E. J. Curran
G. Ledingham	Inside Home	T. Brophy
C. G. Ballantyne	Field-Captain	D. Roy Logan

The game on the whole was a capital one and although won by the Vancouvers they had to play for it as evidenced by the length of each game. With a little more practice, either team will when they have learned to play more into each others hands and place less dependence on individual effort, make a good match for some of the best eastern teams. Messrs. Sumner of Winnipeg and F. V. Bodwell, jr., of this city acted as umpires and Mr. W. F. Wood as referee. The field captains C. G. Ballantyne, of the Victorias, and D. Roy Logan, of the Vancouvers, were all over the field and performed their arduous duties very satisfactorily.

OUR CONGRATULATIONS.

Our young men will insist on reversing Horace Greeley's advice to go west. They will be pardoned, however, by the Sage of the Tribune's ghost for their object in going east is a laudable one, that of getting a wife. The latest addition to the noble order of benedicts who has taken unto himself one of the fairest of Eve's daughters, is Mr. J. W. Morrison, of Messrs. Leask & Morrison, of this city, who, a few days since, hied himself off to Winnipeg, where, last week, he was made twain with Miss Bella, daughter of Mr. Cullen, a well known Winnipeg typo. The knot was tied by the Rev. Mr. Gordon at the residence of the bride's father, King street, in that city. The happy young couple left there for Victoria amidst the congratulations and best wishes of a large number of friends who saw them off at the C. P. R. station. The contagion is spreading; the air is full of rumors of approaching interesting ceremonies in which many of our young people are likely to be principals. Many more should go and do likewise. This is a large country, and in it there is room, and to spare, for all for centuries to come.

ALLEGED SKATE STEALING.

The case against Robert Dewar, who was charged with stealing 80 pairs of skates, by his late parner, R. Baxter, was bundled out of the police court to-day in a hurry. The evidence of the prosecutor went to prove that there was a partnership between Dewar and Baxter in the construction and operation of the roller rink, although Dewar's name did not appear. The magistrate pointed out, when the complainant had told his story, that while there might be ground for a civil action there was no just cause for criminal proceedings. He advised the prosecution to withdraw the case which was done. The defendant, Dewar, who was the manager as well as a partner in the business, bought the skates in San Francisco, and there is still due on the purchase over $80, for which he is personally responsible. He retains the skates, which were sent to him at Vancouver to be sold, and will not return them to Baxter, until he receives a guarantee that this amount will be paid or until he is relieved of the debt. The difficulty is entirely a personal and business one.

THE ELECTRIC LIGHT.

Mr. Green, the Chicago electrician, who is fitting up the electric light wires, thinks that everything will be in readiness on Wednesday evening, when the first trial of the new lights will be made. He is of opinion that the power provided will be ample for all purposes. As a matter of course, after the lights have been operated for a night or two, some defects in arrangements may show themselves, but these will be rectified, and before the end of the week all the electric lights in the city will be working satisfactorily.

HIGH COURT OF FORESTERS.

The opening of the High Court of the Ancient Order of Foresters took place at Leicester, England, on Monday, Aug. 23d. The principal address was delivered by the Mayor of Leicester, Bro. Alderman Israel Hart, who was most enthusiastically received.

FORFEITED BAIL.

Johnny, a Nitnat, got drunk, and Jimmy, a Cowichan, was found with whiskey in his possession, and put up bail to appear at the Police Court to-day. They did not come to time and the bail was forfeited.

THE MUD FLATS.

A Scheme to Reclaim the Mud Flats and Render them Extremely Valuable.

A scheme to reclaim and utilize the mud flats, which are now the property of the city, has been broached, and is now being discussed on the streets. The proposition is to build a revetment wall across James Bay, along the west line of Government street, and thus form an embankment where James Bay bridge now stands. All the mud flats to the east of the bridge would, by this means, be reclaimed from the sea, and could either be filled up of utilized as they are for gardens. This done, the lots facing on Government street, made extremely valuable by this means, would then be sold to the highest bidder. A second tier of lots could also be sold, and there would still be ground left for a public garden. The sum realized from these sales would more than pay the whole cost of the retaining wall and embankment. This is the scheme as outlined and it appears to be generally endorsed. Mayor Fell is understood to favor the construction of a canal from James Bay to Ross Bay, to increase our harbor accommodation and afford wharfage facilities for our rapidly increasing commerce. Unquestionably something will have to be done with the mud flats. What will it be?

WINNIPEG-VICTORIA.

The C. P. R. Getting up an Excursion Trip to Victoria and Return.

The Canadian Pacific people, says the Winnipeg Free Press, are at present endeavoring to make up a party of twenty or more excursionists to be run through to the Pacific coast and return in special sleeping car attached to one of their regular trains, leaving here next week. It is intended to place Mr. Somers, of the passenger department, in charge of the party on the round trip, and thus assure the excursionists the best possible arrangements for their comfort on the journey. It is proposed that the party will run direct from Winnipeg to Banff, where they will remain one day to visit the Sulphur Springs, take in the Rocky Mountain scenery and indulge in fishing, picnicing and other pleasures. They will proceed to Port Moody the following day, at which point they take the steamer for Victoria. After a stay of one week at the coast the party will return direct to Winnipeg. These personally conducted excursion parties are in great favor with the American traveling public, and the prospects for this one to the coast are excellent. The round trip tickets will be placed at $75.

MARINE.

The steamship Aberdeen, from Hankow for London, which foundered in the China sea, had a cargo of 4,500,000 lbs. of tea.

The ship Rose Stowe, 68 days from Brisbane, arrived in port this morning. She will be placed on berth here and loaded with salmon for the London market by Messrs. R. Ward & Co. The Rose is a twin ship to the Thomas Stowe.

THE FLOWER CITY.

Mr. Alex. Calder, one of Winnipeg's solid men, is in the city. He arrived from the east on Friday and since then has been taking in the sights of Victoria and its environs, as well as renewing former acquaintanceship with old Londoners and residents here from Ingersoll and St. Thomas. Mr. Calder is largely interested in Brandon and other western towns. He considers the position of Victoria and its surroundings superior to anything he has hitherto observed, pronouncing the position at once unrivalled so far as he knows anywhere but condemns the miserable buildings on many of our leading streets and the disgraceful verandahs—a relic of by-gone ages—that mars the beauty and appearance of our streets. Victorians should take a hint and make our city in every respect a model one, as regards drainage, appearance of the buildings, removing verandahs and erecting only such fences around private residences and grounds as would be attractive to strangers and create a desire amongst our people to emulate each other in making their homes and surroundings the pride of the coast. Then indeed would Victoria become the "flower city."

DEEP SEA FISHERIES.

A suggestion made, we think, by Mr. Helgesen during the late session of the Legislature, is about to be acted upon. The schooner Pathfinder, owned by Messrs. Carne & Munsie, of this city, has been chartered by the Minister of Marine and Fisheries, and will be despatched as soon as she arrives from the sealing grounds to explore the waters of the coast for cod and other deep sea fishing. The west coast of Vancouver Island, and the waters of the Pacific as far north as Queen Charlotte Island, will be subjected to a thorough examination. Mr. Thos. Mowatt, inspector of fisheries, will superintend the explorations.

THE CITY PARK.

The Mayor and members of the City Council, City Surveyor Leech, Surveyor General Gore, Hon. W. Smithe, Commissioner of Lands and Works and several invited guests will drive out to Cedar Hill Park to-morrow, leaving the City Hall at 10 a. m. The object of the visit is to inspect the property recently granted to the city by the government for park purposes, and to establish its metes and bounds, approximately, by a walk over. A luncheon will be served under the spreading branches of an oak, and the grave and reverend city fathers will for a few hours fancy themselves boys again.

THE QUICKEST YET.

Mr. Richton Jones, of this city, has shown us a letter received from Ireland, acknowledging the receipt of a letter written here on the 25th of July, reaching Waterford, Ireland, on the 9th inst., by way of Liverpool, which city it reached in 14 days and Waterford in 15 days. The letter was written to Messrs. J. P. Graves & Co., lumber merchants, Waterford, and is believed to have made the quickest time yet recorded for a missive in reaching the Emerald Isle. By and by it will be Victoria to London in 12 days.

COMING TO-NIGHT.

Sir Donald A. Smith and party, arrived at Port Hammond this morning by special train. Arrangements have been made for the steamer R. P. Rithet to take the party on board, and, together with the passengers arriving overland to-day, will leave at once for Victoria. The steamer will be due here at 20 o'clock standard time. Sir Donald will remain until Wednesday evening.

MONTE CRISTO.

The Grismer-Davies Company open a season of four nights at the Victoria to-night in the Count of Monte Cristo. This is one of Mr. Grismer's best personations, and to-night will be the only time it will be presented during this visit. The company is one of the best which has appeared at the Victoria.

EXCURSION TICKETS.

Directions have been given to Mr. G. A. Carleton, agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway, to issue tickets to Donald and return, good for ten days, for $40 each, and to Canmore and return, good for ten days, at $50 each. The mileage to Donald is 446 and to Canmore 552.

Today women are employed in the following trades: Artificial flowers and leaves, awnings, beddings supplies, blank books, cigar boxes, collars and cuffs, boys' clothing, brushes, buttons, canned goods, caps, cards, carpet sewers and weavers, cases for jewelry, cigars and cigarettes, cloaks and suits, clothing, confectionery, copyists, cords and fringes, corsets, dressmaking, embroidery, envelopes, essences and extracts, fancy boxes and fans, feathers, flannel, flags, fringes, furs, gimps, gloves, gold leaf, hairdressers, handkerchiefs, hat sweats and trimmings, labels, laces, laundries, lead pencils, linen and ladies' underwear, mats, mattresses, medicines, morocco goods, millinery, neck ties, paper bags, parasols, patterns, perfumeries, pocketbooks, pearl work, preserves, printing offices, quilting rags, ribbons and ruffles, shirts, shoes, shirts, silk factories, soaps, slippers, straw goods, spices, tags and suits, suspenders, tassels, teachers, tickings, tobacco, toys, trimmings, twines, umbrellas, upholstery, watch cases, wax works, weavers' white goods, wigs, willow wear, window shades, woolen goods, wrappers, worsted yarns, telegraphers, waiswomen, washers and ironers.—Report of Labor Commissioner.

Often the Fault of Ambitious Parents.

Young girls are not always alone to blame for over-exertion in social pleasures. Sometimes their parents, who are ambitious to see them make brilliant figures in the gay whirl, push them on to excesses, or, at least, do not restrained the ardors of pleasure pursuits. The consequence is that young girls frequently exhaust their freshness in a single season. Often they lose the color, the vivacity and enthusiasm of youth, and become faded and imprinted before they are out of their teens.

Worse still, they inflict permanent injury upon health. The exhaustions of excitement and fatigue often cause sleeplessness, and the ready dose of chloral or a bromide is relied upon to quiet the nerves. Alternate sedatives and excitements wear out the nerves rapidly, and prepare the victim for neuralgia, headaches, dyspepsia, and many other maladies of that kind. Very often, when a young girl is smitten with illness of this sort, the family speaks of it as a "visitation of providence," when they ought to speak of it as parental mismanagement.—Baltimore American.

Caps and Aprons for House Servants.

One of the greatest difficulties I have met with as a housekeeper is to persuade house servants to wear white caps and aprons. They will wear the apron without any persuasion, but very few of them are willing to wear a cap. I always stipulate when engaging a house servant that she shall wear a cap. Even when it is made a condition of hire the girls occasionally refuse to wear them. I have known them to wear caps in the house and to take them off stealthily if they slip into the alley for a moment. I can't understand the dislike for them unless it is on the ground that caps and aprons are a badge of servitude. I know that servants who are not required to wear them ridicule and jeer at those who are, and I have found my girls in tears over them many a time. Nevertheless, seeing that they are only an evidence of neatness, that they give tone and tidiness to a servant, and that they are useful in protecting the hair from dust, I insist on having them worn.—Matron in Globe Democrat.

In the Supreme Court of British Columbia.

WHEREAS, pursuant to a decree of the Supreme Court of British Columbia, made in the matter of the estate of William Turgoose and in a cause Bealey and Turgoose against Sandover, the creditors of the said William Turgoose were required to send in their claims to the Registrar of this Honorable Court on or before the 15th day of June last past; And whereas in the opinion of the Court it is desirable that further time should be given for a final adjudication upon claims against the said estate. Therefore pursuant to a further order in the matter of the said estate and in the said action, the creditors (who have not already filed their claims) of William Turgoose, late of South Saanich, who died on the 22nd day of January, 1885, are, on or before the 20th day of September, 1886 to send by post prepaid, to Charles Wilson, the Solicitor for the Plaintiffs, their Christian and surnames, addresses and descriptions, the full particulars of their claim, a statement of their accounts and the nature of the securities (if any) held by them, or in default thereof they will be peremptorily excluded from the benefit of the said decree. Every creditor holding any security is to produce the same before the Registrar of this Honourable Court, at his office, James Bay, Victoria, on Monday, the 27th day of September, 1886, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, being the time appointed for adjudication on the claims.
Dated the 30th day of August 1886.
